Foreword

Padma Bhushan Dr. Mrityunjay B Athreya,
Ph.D. (Harvard)

I am delighted to write this Foreword to the Annual Report of the National Abilympics Association of India (NAAI). It is a valuable milestone occasion, in which, to highlight the great achievements of NAAI, now integrated with Sarthak Educational Trust, a leading NGO serving PwD/Divyangjan, through Skill Training and job placement.

First, I would like to compliment the Founder and the erstwhile Chairperson, Dr. Uma Tuli, and the distinguished Board of NAAI, on their wisdom and objectivity in handing over NAAI to Sarthak, in 2016, recognising the strengths of Sarthak. I have seen, alas, some NGOs decline due to the inability of an existing leadership team to continue to run it, as well as their reluctance to give up control. I do so in my capacity as Mentor of Sarthak for over a decade, and on behalf of the dedicated Founder; the wise and diverse Advisory Board; and the highly committed team.

Second, I would like to celebrate the high synergy achieved in a very short time, between NAAI and Sarthak. This is reflected in the quantity and quality of participation, in the four Regional and National competitions of Abilympics.

Third, the logical combination of Sarthak and NAAI has, deservedly, attracted more support from the GoI, the concerned Ministries, the Department of Disability Affairs, and other agencies.

Fourth, I wish to reiterate the point I made at the Northern Regional Abilympics, that Sports and fitness are very relevant to all the thousands of alumni, current and future trainees of Sarthak; and, at the same time, Skills training is valuable to be given to the participants in NAAI events.

I congratulate all the competitors of this year's Abilympics; the winners; the Judges; and all others who contributed to an active and satisfying year.

From the President's desk

Krishan Kalra
Past President, All India Management Association (AIMA)

At the outset, I want to thank all our members, office bearers and colleagues in the secretariat - very ably lead by our indefatigable Secretary General Dr Jitender Aggarwal - for giving me this opportunity to write a note for the NAAI annual report for 2017-18 - the very first one for full year since the association management was taken over by Sarthak, in December 2016. I am privileged to head this great association, founded in 2001 by yet another distinguished social worker Dr Uma Tuli of Amar Jyoti Charitable Trust. The Abilympics movement took seed, in Japan, way back in 1972 with the objective of enriching the lives of PwDs through training and competitions in life-skills so that they can pursue and achieve their full potential. The first International Abilympics were held in Tokyo, in 1981 to commemorate the UN's International Year of Disabled Persons, under the aegis of International Abilympics Federation and has been held mostly every four years in different parts of the world. Indian teams have participated in almost all International Abilympics. And, when our country got the honour of hosting the event in 2003, to prepare for the same, National Abilympic Association of India (NAAI) was set up, in 2001, at the behest of MSJE & MHRD, government of India.

Over the years, lot of efforts have gone into organizing Regional and National events as well as participation in the International events - with generous grants from MSJE, Public and Private sector enterprises, NGOs and Civil Society. For some technical reasons, MSJE stopped their help after the last international event in 2016 in France. Perhaps that was the trigger for the NAAI to land up in Sarthak's lap.

However, what has been achieved in the last one year is really remarkable! Regional competitions at Pune, Kolkata, Hyderabad and Noida; followed by the crowning glory of the grand National Abilympics, held in October 2018, in Aero City, New Delhi. For the spectacular Annual Event, we owe our gratitude to the MSDE and the NSDC, who most graciously combined our event with World Skills India - where able bodied youngsters compete in a mind boggling 45 trades. The ministry and NSDC accepted our request, and our reasoning and made it all possible. 50 of our winners from the regional events participated for 3 days in 10 trades and the final winners were honored by the Honorable Minister at a glittering valedictory function in the majestic Vigyan Bhavan. Additionally, we also got generous support from The Hans Foundation and some individual donors. Technically this happened in the FY 2018-19 but since our annual report is being released after the event, I could not resist the temptation of mentioning about this fabulous event in our calendar. We earnestly hope that the ministry and NSDC will continue to keep us under their wings and help us similarly for our forthcoming events as well as the International one, in 2020, in China.

It has been a very fulfilling and humbling experience for me, witnessing those denied some faculty by nature, putting in their best and earnest efforts to excel in their chosen field. I pray that we can reach out to many more parts of the country and attract much larger numbers of competitors at the forthcoming State, Regional and National events and put up a significantly better show in China in 2020.

With my warm good wishes for the festive season.

Address by Secretary General

Dr. Jitender Aggarwal
Secretary General-NAAI & CEO Sarthak Educational Trust

Dear Friends

Greetings! It gives me immense pleasure to share with you the updates and achievements of our recently acquired initiative National Abilympic Association of India, through this Annual Report.

In December 2016, Dr. Uma Tuli, chairperson NAAI, and other distinguished board members posited their faith in Sarthak and handed over NAAI to us. NAAI has been working since 2001 in the direction of screening skilled divyangjan in selected categories across nation, conducting regional and national level competitions, and represented India in 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th International Abilympics and brought laurels to the nation.

In furtherance to this, NAAI has other significant roles to play as well, such as generating public awareness about the skills, potentials, and abilities of divyangjan and instilling the idea of competition deep down in the spirits of divyangjan.

One the one side it may prepare a receptive mindset among the masses by providing them an opportunity to witness skills of divyang and on the other it may provide a continuous drive and motivation to divyang to enhance their competence to compete. The very idea of competition is energizing, it being a regular effort to excel. One cannot win and sustain in a competition merely by a singular effort. It calls for constantly working to expand your potential. And, thus it is of immense significance for divyangjan to provide the much desired impetus to efforts towards carving a world of Equal Opportunity.

The recently concluded regional and national events are a case in point, where more than 1400 PwD participants, mainly youth from across the nation, participated. It was an overwhelming experience for all of us to see their enthusiasm and zeal to reach the top!

I also take this opportunity to congratulate not only all the achievers, but also the participants who demonstrated immense spirit in competing and exploring new avenues. They should not be disheartened for not winning, but should strive for future glories, and even encourage their other friends and colleagues to participate in such competitions.

This wonderful experience has empowered me to now dream of Abilympics becoming an integral part of World Skills Competitions, held mainly for able-bodied participants, in India and at the International level. The talent of divyangs for me is no less than any other individual in fact, at times it exceeds.

In this direction, our fruitful partnership with World Skills India, an extended arm of National Skill Development Corporation (NSDC) this year, will definitely pave way for this inclusive initiative.

I express my sincere gratitude to our Mentor and Guru, Padma Bhushan Dr. MB. Athreya, Shri Krishan Kalra, and all other Board Members and well wishers, who have guided and supported us in all endeavours. A special gratitude is also due to all the organizations - The Hans Foundation, MSDE, AICTE - and all others who have helped NAAI take this Movement of Excellence in skilling of PwDs to the next level.

Vision, Mission and Objectives

NAAI has been focused in its approach towards empowering PwDs and creating an inclusive environment through bringing out the excellence in skilling in them. At the forefront of NAAI's motivation is assistance to PwDs in gaining economic independence & enable them to identify themselves as valuable and fully integrated members of the society.

Objectives

- To develop, initiate and implement strategies to promote Abilympics in the country.
- To advocate, organize, and participate in regional, national, and international competitions to empower disabled persons.
- To provide exposure and equal opportunities to disabled persons to advanced technologies in various vocational, leisure and living skills.

The vocational skills events that take place during each competition contribute greatly to achieve NAAI's goals.

an exponential increase in the number of persons trained as well as being ensured of a sustainable livelihood. Deliberations revolved around conducting skill training in a direction which facilitates creation of employment. The steps taken to achieve these should be through alignment of QP-NOS, affiliating training centres and conducting talent acquisition programs. These should be completely aligned with market demands.

Three models to promote Skill Development and Livelihood Creation namely Disability District Saturation Model, Promoting employment by facilitating employers and National Portal on Disability were deliberated upon and holistic efforts combining all three were proposed to achieve the larger goal of skill development mission.

NAAI support system

NAAI envision empowering PwDs to live their life with dignity and respect. And, to achieve the same is engaged in reaching to skilled PwDs across the nation, selecting the best talents through regional and national and providing them an opportunity to compete and win laurels to the nation in International Abilympics. In year 2017, NAAI has organized four regional and national Abilympics competitions to screen skilled PwDs in 10 skill categories.
